Pioneer Line of Steamers

FOR

Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York and Boston, via Albemarle and Chesapeake Canal.

THE COMMODIOUS STEAMERS PIONEER and Commodore Adams, will leave Newborne for Norfolk on TUESDAY of each week at 8 o'clock A M, connecting with the different lines of steamers for the above-named points. On and after the first day of December next they will leave on Tuesday and Friday of each week, making semi-weekly trips. Shippers of Goods will receive every facility and accommodation for the transportation of the same, as arrangements have been made with the different compa ies to forward goods to this line at low rates and without delay. Each of these steamers are capable of carrying through the canal without difficulty, as they were built expressly for the trade. They are fitted up with STATE ROOMS and BERTHS capable of accommodating thirty-five passengers. Every attention will be paid to the comfort of passengers, who will not be subject to the inconvenience of transfer to other vessels, but will be taken through direct without charge.

The tables of the steamers are liberally supplied with the best the market affords. Families traveling will find it to their interest to take this line, as they will thereby escape the danger and discomfort of a sea route, and the fatigue of railroad travel.

On the 15th of December next, if the business of the line warrants it, the steamer Williams will be put on the route, and tri-weekly trips will be made.

For freight or passage apply to Whitford, Dill & Co., Newbern, N C.

DAVID WILLIAMS, Proprietor

VALUABLE AND DESIRABLE PROPERTY FOR SALE.

ON THE 20TH DAY OF DECEMBER, THE SUBscribers will sell at auction, for cash, the site on the Cape Fear River at Fayetteville, where the Clarendon Bridge formerly stood, including Toll House, the Land on both sides of the River, Piers, and whatever is left of the property. The sale will be made on the express condition that the purchaser is to build a new, double track, covered bridge, the length of which will be six hundred feet or thereabout.

THE PEOPLE must be trusted with their Government, and if trusted, my opinion is that they will act in good faith, and restore their former constitutional relations with all the States composing the Union.—Andrew Johnson's Letter to Gov. Sharkey, of Mississippi.

The Theory of President Johnson's Plan of Reconstruction.

In the South we believe, the correctness and soundness of President Johnson's theory of reconstruction, have not been called in question. In principle it is identical with the plan of the lamented Lincoln, so far as it was developed, and accords with the views of Secretary Seward from time to time reiterated. His plan or theory has been endorsed by both of the political parties at the North in their recent platforms, but the construction put upon that plan by the radicals, differs as widely as the poles from the commonly received construction put upon it.

He affirms that "States cannot commit treason," that the attempt to secede on the part of the Southern States did not work a forfeiture of their organic character as States, that their functions were simply suspended, and that the infusion or restoration of the vital energies of the Constitution, was all that was needed to effect their rehabilitation.

The power of the President as the embodiment of the military authority of the United States, especially during the interim of Congress, is supreme within the true intent and meaning of the Constitution and the laws. His right as the conqueror to impose upon the conquered citizens of the States, such terms of surrender as he deemed fit and proper, is unquestionable. Having laid down those terms, and they having been accepted by the conquered, we hold that Congress has no constitutional or moral right to alter, change, modify or add to those terms, but that what the President has done in this regard, is unalterable. If his position as to the status of the States be correct, and we believe it is, there is no power in the government to change or alter those terms, but Congress is bound in good faith, to carry them out.

The Congress may enact such laws and regulations as it may deem proper, to guard the peace of the country in future and to prevent the recurrence of insurrection or rebellion, within the powers granted to it by the Constitution, but it cannot pass any expost facto law, nor can it directly or indirectly change or modify the organic character of the States in any wise.

If we have not misinterpreted the teachings of the late Message of President Johnson, there is room to fear, that he is not so well and so fully grounded in his former positions as the country was led to hope and expect. He admits, that the treatment of the Southern States as conquered provinces, became the first question. He admits it is true, that it was found not to hold water, and hence was abandoned, but it does seem to us it would have been more consonant with his more cherished views, not to have admitted, that such a question could arise. Moreover, he at least by implication, puts in abeyance his own constitutional authority in the premises, by tacitly submitting what he has done and what he certainly had the right to do, as the chief of the military power of the United States, to the approval and revision of Congress.

Our position, that the terms of surrender as prescribed by the President and accepted by the people of the States, are unalterable by any power in the government, it seems to us cannot be questioned. The inviolability of those terms, it seems to us, ought to have been asserted and maintained by the President in his message, as well as his power and right to proclaim the restoration of the States as soon as they comply with the terms. Whether the President modestly withholds from Congress his purposes, or designs to yield up the whole matter to the revision and adjustment of that body, remains to be seen.

Certain it is that Mr. Sumner and the radical leaders are proceeding upon the idea, that the entire question is still open to the action of Congress, and that they purpose to regulate their action not by the principles of the President's plan of reconstruction, but upon the strange and vicious idea that the Southern States are conquered provinces. Such a course, if not resisted promptly by the President and the Congress, must open afresh the wounds which the President has sought to heal, and retard to an indefinite period, if not wholly defeat the aims of the real friends of restoration and Union.

SALARIES.—A brief debate arose in the Senate on yesterday on fixing the salary for Comptroller and clerks. Several gentleman advocated small salaries, but all agreed to fix such a sum as would support the officers. Messrs. Warren and Whitford advocated liberal salaries. Mr. Whitford contended that the office should be an inducement to men fully competent to the task, that the State could always command the best talents. This is a sound principle and we believe should be acted upon generally. First class men for all positions, can only be obtained as a general rule, by first class remuneration. But for the power attached to the office of Governor of North Carolina, the office could hardly be filled up to a forty shilling lawyer, so meagre the salary.

Better Signs.

Connected with the Union party at the North, as we have in the South, there is a faction called radicals or "strait sect" men, who although they have not yet coalesced, are regarded as extreme men, ultra in their principles and feelings, and generally at the North of the old Puritan stock.

This faction at the North headed by Sumner and the like, in laying down their programme, strike at the highest possible extreme, and by holding on with a death-grasp, hope to secure as large a share of their programme as possible.—Their maximum they have but little hope of obtaining, hence they seek it to secure all they can get.

We are glad however, to see a determination on the part of the conservative portion of the party to defeat their aims and support the President.

The New York Herald and the Times, both influential journals, are decided in their opposition to the course of the radicals. The views of the Temes which we copy to-day, will be read with interest.

What the Times says in regard to North Carolina will be hailed by our readers as a good omen North Carolina has done all that has been required of her. She has done it gracefully and well, and the President owes it to her people, to remove the Provisional Government and to give to the State, her civil government and civil law.

In saying this, we design no reflection upon the Provisional Government. If the President has determined upon the continuance of the Provisional government as a punishment upon the State for the late elections or for any supposed disloyalty to the government, we repeat, the President is acting under a misapprehension of the real state of things, and injustice is done to the State.

Mississippi and South Carolina both have their Governors elected by the people presiding over them. Can they be more loyal than North Carolina? Does the President or Gov. Holden believe this? It is impossible. The election of Jonathan Worth, a man of undoubted record, is the best pledge the people could give of their loyalty. To construe the designs of our people differently, is an injustice to Mr. Worth and to the people.

Such articles as the one from the Times to-day, lead us to hope that the light is breaking upon the North, and that the true position of the State will soon be understood.

Important.

We feel sure that the authorities are interested in the preservation of order and the prevention of crime. It is only necessary for them to be appealed to in proper form, with sufficient facts based upon the testimony of proper persons, to give prompt attention to the matter.—We are assured by gentlemen, that much anxiety exists in different parts of the State in regard to the perfectly helpless condition of many of our people, for self-defence and for the preservation of order. Crime is on the increase, daring robberies, burglaries and in some instances murders are being committed, and the condition of the inhabitants prevents the adoption of any measures for their suppression. Indolent negroes congregate and many of them are armed, who are prompted to acts of violence by their necessities or by vagrant white persons. These passions are stimulated by the ease with which spirituous liquors are now obtained.

The organization of the militia or of police forces, can accomplish nothing, unless they are supplied with arms and ammunition. If this were done to a proper extent, under the care and control of proper officers, all apprehensions would be at once removed, and we should pass through the Christmas holidays with comparative quiet. But if matters are allowed to go on as at present, very serious apprehensions are felt for the consequences. If those from whom these depredations come or are anticipated, were unarmed, the case would be different. There is absolutely no danger of collision or difficulty arising from the provocations of the whites. We are glad to know that the disposition to treat the colored people kindly and justly, is daily increasing, and we find a general anxiety to look to their welfare, and the promotion of quiet and good feeling among them.

COUNCILLOR OF STATE.—The balletings of yesterday in the General Assembly for seven Councillors of State, resulted in the election only of Wm. Eaton, jr. Esq., of Warren.

The Vote of the State on the Anti-Slavery and Anti-secession Ordinances.

We are requested by Gov. Holden to notify the Sheriffs of Burke, Cabarrus, Cherokee, Davidson, Franklin, Mecklenburg, Moore, Pitt, Polk, Wake and Yadkin, that no returns have been received from these Counties at the Executive office of the votes of the people on the anti-slavery and anti-secession ordinances of the late Convention. It is made the duty of the Executive to publish the votes of the people on the subject, and it is important that the returns should be made at once to the Governor.

We learn that the vote is small on these ordinances, but that they have been ratified by decided majorities. It is noticeable that the strong Union Counties have given the largest majorities in favor of ratification. We cannot understand how any one who had taken the amnesty oath binding him to the abolition of slavery, could vote against the anti-slavery ordinance of the Convention. But hundreds have done so.—Standard.

The press of the State was very much to blame in this matter. There was a general failure on the part of the papers of the State to call attention to it. At many precincts there were no tickets. Many considered it unnecessary to vote, regarding the matter settled—others thought if they voted at all, they must vote according to their own conscientious scruples in the matter. Others neglected it, as we are told, even Gov. Holden did, without intending to express any disapprobation of the ordinances.

The President of the Senate, Mr. Foster, of Connecticut, now occupies the position of the United States. In the event of the death of President Johnson, therefore, in the interval to 1868, Mr. Foster, as he now stands, would become President of the United States. As is understood to be a sort of semi-radical, semi-conservative old line whig. It is said "there is some talk of a change in the presiding officer of the Senate." Perhaps Charles Sumner may be the coming man. Who knows? In any event, we trust that the life and health of President Johnson may be spared to the country.—Richmond Whig.

The committee on Finance recommended the passage of the bill, with an amendment allowing him one clerk with a salary of $1200.

After some discussion, the following substitute offered by Mr. Smith of Hertford, was adopted:

The House adjourned until 10 o'clock A. M. to-morrow.

[The report of the proceedings in the House of Commons on Saturday, represented Mr. Waugh as reporting a resolution as chairman of the committee on private bills, to rescind the joint order for administering the oaths of office to the Governor elect, &c. This is an error. He did not introduce that resolution as a member of any committee, but simply as a member of the House of Commons.—REPORTER.]

The President's message elicits comments from the leading journals of the country rather indicative of their own prepossessions and proclivities than expository of its merits or defects. This is particularly the case with the New York press, that rarely gives a calm and unbiased consideration to anything. The Tribune implies its dissatisfaction by insisting that Congress, and not the Executive, is the true exponent of the will of the people and the rightful director of the policy of the country. The Herald regards the message as a "conclusive vindication of his course." The News welcomes it as placing the the President "in direct opposition to the foolish and vindictive policy of the Republicans, as developed by the representatives of that party in Congress." The World thinks that the message leaves something to be desiderated in point of vigor. The Times regards its views as "full of wisdom and conveyed with great force and dignity;" but then, the Times would have said the same thing if the message had been delivered in Chocktaw. The Journal of Commerce pronounces it "able and vigorous," and destined to "take rank among the noble documents of our history." The Evening Post finds it "frank, dignified, direct and manly."—Richmond Whig.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS.—The success of the anti slavery Constitutional Amendments seemed to have inspired further attempts in the same direction, and four amendments of that instrument have already been proposed, viz: making the number of votes in each State the basis of representation in Congress; annulling the provision against export duties; prohibiting the payment of the rebel debt; and securing to all persons equal protection and the rights of liberty and life.—Wash. Cor.

GONE HOME.—Messrs. Fuller, Clark and Walkup, representatives elect from North Carolina, left here this evening for their homes. Messrs. Stubbs and Turner of the same, are still here, but will probably soon follow, as in their opinion the delegation stands but little chance of being admitted for several months to come at least.—*Wash. Resolved, That though we regret to be deprived in any degree of his genial companionship and wise counsels, which have hitherto so frequently cheered and animated us amid our toils—the self-sacrifice, zeal and efficiency with which he has during the past twenty four years, devoted his eminent talents and varied acquirements to the promotion of "whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely and of good report," justly entitles him to the most honored place in our esteem, and the warmest place in our affections.

Resolved, That while the paper which he proposes to publish, is in no respect, intended to be the organ of any sect or party, we believe from our personal knowledge of his qualifications, that he will fully accomplish his purpose by making it in every respect, a journal worthy of the patronage of every sect and party—and believing thus, we take great pleasure in cordially recommending it beforehand to all our people everywhere.

To the People of the South.

The frequent battles around Winchester, Va., have left their traces in the many graves scattered broadcast over an area of twelve miles radius. The dead were generally buried where they fell, and their rude graves are fast disappearing beneath the feet of men and beasts, free from the want of enclosures, to go where they will.

Those who died in the hospitals were mostly buried in the old Episcopal graveyard, but its enclosure has long been destroyed and cattle graze over its whole extent.

The farming operations of next season, the wear of the winter, and the disappearance by removal and death of those who were present at their burials, will in a few months leave no knowledge of the resting places of many martyred dead.

Impelled by these considerations, some of the citizens of Winchester and its vicinity have determined to endeavor to collect these scattered remains in one cemetery and surround them by a substantial enclosure. This, of course, will require a considerable amount of money. The means of our citizens are very much diminished by the war and its results, we are therefore induced to appeal to you for aid in this matter, encouraged by the belief that you will feel it a privilege as well as duty to pay this tribute of respect to the memory of those who fell in your cause.

Every Southern State has its representative among these fallen heroes; we ask all then for such contributions as they feel able to give.

Should we succeed in raising the necessary funds it is proposed to remove the remains on the first of April, 1866, and we would respectfully suggest to all whose friends lie under these battle-fields, to disinter them before that time if they wish to do so. In the removal, every precaution will be taken to preserve all means of dentification, and an accessible record will be prepared of every grave.

All subscriptions may be sent to Mrs. Phillip Williams, or Mrs. Dr A. H. H. Boyd, Winchester, Va.

To citizens of Winchester and vicinity.

In furtherance of the above object, all persons who have graves of Confederate soldiers upon their lands are requested to report to Mrs. Phillip Williams or Mrs. Dr. A. H. H. Boyd.

The papers are requested to copy.

Reconstruction--Congress and the President.

It will be seen that the initial steps have been already taken in Congress toward developing a policy on the subject of reconstruction. In pursuance of the action of the Union caucus, Hon. Thad. Stevens yesterday introduced the following joint resolution:

"Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives in Congress assembled, That a joint committee of fifteen members shall be appointed; nine of whom shall be members of the House and six of the Senate, who shall inquire into the condition of the States which formed the so-called Confederate States of America, and report whether they or any of them are entitled to be represented in either House of Congress, with leave to report at any time by bill or otherwise; and until such report shall have been made and finally acted upon by Congress, no member shall be received into either House from any of the so-called Confederate States; and all papers relating to the representives of the said States shall be referred to the said committee without debate."

Whatever may have been the object of the authors of this resolution, there are some weighty considerations in favor of the action which it proposes. It is obvious that no member from any of the rebel States will be admitted to Congress without a very full consideration and discussion of the question whether "those States are entitled to representation or not." In some form or other that question will be canvassed. Opinions differ in regard to it. Some hold that those States are out of the Union, or have forfeited their rights as members of the Union, and that they cannot be entitled to representation in Congress until that right is formally restored to them by law. Others insist that they have never been out of the Union, and that their right of representation has only been suspended by their rebellion, and reverts to them as soon as their rebellion stops.

Whatever may be the true position on the subject, it is certain that it must be discussed. The main debate of the session will turn upon that question, and it becomes important, therefore, that it should come up in as orderly and dignified a manner as possible. The resolution introduced provides for this. It appoints a committee of both houses to take it into consideration and to present their conclusions upon it to Congress. When that report comes in, the subject will be properly before both houses; and the main question involved can then be discussed and decided upon its intrinsic merits, without being embarrassed by questions of regularity or returns in the case of individual members. Without any such provision as this, the question would be debated upon the presentation of each new certificate, and we should have perpetually recurring wrangle, instead of a decorous and formal discussion.

Nor is there any reason to fear undue delay in reaching a decision in consequence of the appointment of this committee. It is at liberty to report at any time and in any form; and we cannot doubt that any just and fair committee will share the anxiety of the country to have this matter settled as speedily as possible. And as the different opinions which exist on this matter will unquestionably be fairly represented on the committee, we see no reason to fear any undue influence or prejudice to the main question, from its action.

After all, we think Congress will find its action decided, if not forestalled, substantially by the course of events and the action of the President. It is perfectly well understood that it is only in the exercise of the War powers necessarily vested in his office that President Johnson retains military possession of the Southern States, and control of their civil government. His action is anomalous and outside the specific provisions of the constitution, although it is, undoubtedly, embraced within the scope of its permissions. But he will naturally relieve himself of the odium and responsibility of its exercise at the earliest possible moment. President Johnson will not retain control of the Southern States Governments one hour longer than he may deem necessary to securing guarantees for their acceptance of the results of the war. He has prescribed certain conditions upon which, so far as his action is concerned, those States will be restored to the government of their own people.—Upon the fulfillment of those conditions, how is he to avoid the fulfillment of these engagements? And when they are fulfilled, what remains for Congress or anybody else to do, at all essential to the restoration of these States to their former status in the Union.

Take the case of North Carolina as an illustration. She has declared the act of secession to have been null and void from the beginning, thus abandoning the heresy of secession. She has repudiated the debt contracted during the rebellion. And her Legislature has now, by an almost unanimous vote, ratified the Constitutional Amendment prohibiting slavery, and authorizing Congress to make laws to render that prohibition effective. These are the three conditions prescribed by President Johnson, and they have all been fulfilled. Now, why should not the President at once terminate the Provisional Government, relieve the Provisional Governor, hand over the civil authority of the State to Gov. Worth and the other officers elected by the people, and withdraw all the troops except such as the State authorities may need for the preservation of order and the maintenance of lawful authority? How, indeed, can he avoid doing this, in compliance with his promises—those promises on the faith of which the State has taken this action? It is to be presumed that he will do it, at the earliest practicable moment. And when it is done, what remains for Congress or anybody else to do? Congress certainly cannot nullify the President's action. Congress cannot order the President to restore the Provisional Governor—to depose the Governor elected by the people—to disperse the Legislature, or to raise new armies to hold the State still longer in subjection. Nor can Congress itself take such action.—No man in Congress, not even Mr. Stevens, would think for a moment of creating a new Provisional Government, and appointing a new Provisional Governer, to supplant the authorities elected by the people and admitted by the national Executive to the exercise of their functions. The State will have been restored to the exercise of that local and subordinate sovereignty which belongs to it under the Constitution of the United States. And no committee of Congress, we apprehend would see reason, under such a state of things, for reporting that North Carolina was not in condition to be represented in both branches of the national Congress. And if it should so report, neither Congress nor the country would ratify its conclusions.

It is possible for Congress to embarrass the President somewhat in acting upon this question, but it cannot defeat him. It may also make an issue with him upon the general principles of his action, but it can gain nothing by so doing, and may lose much. Its true policy is doubtless to act in harmony with him, and to aid him in his efforts to effect the speedy and safe restoration of the Union to its integrity.—New York Times Provisional Attorney-General.

We learn that Gov. Holden has appointed Hon Sion H. Rogers, Provisional Attorney General of this State. This appointment is peculiarly appropriate, as Mr Rogers has just been elected Attorney-General by the Legislature, to take effect at the expiration of the Provisional government.

We have heard it intimated that it is the intention of the Governor, if the Provisional government should be continued for any considerable length of time, to start as far as may be in his power the whole machinery of the Courts of the State. In this event the Governor will most probably request the Supreme Court just elected by the Legislature to act as a Provisional Supreme Court.—Standard.

A Colored Delegation to Washington.

BOSTON, Dec. 2.—The colored people of New England, in convention yesterday, selected Geo. T. Downing, of Rhode Island, as a delegate to represent the interests of their race at Washington during the ensuing session of Congress.

THE LOUISIANA MEMBERS.—The credentials of the members elect from Louisiana were received by the Clerk of the House to day. They are Louis Saint Martin, Jacob Barker, John E. King, J. T. Wickliffe and John Ray. Several of the Alabama delegation are also in town.—Wash.

CITY AND STATE ITEMS.

DARING.—On Sunday night last as a gentleman from New York who had just arrived on the train, was passing from the Depot to the Exchange Hotel, he was attacked by three negroes near the Bridge, and knocked down, but as it was early in the evening his cries for help alarmed the negroes and they fled, leaving him in possession of his carpet bag. We have not heard that any thing was stolen from him. These outrages are too common—it calls for a stronger and more efficient city watch. Indeed the perils to which we are exposed, demand a heavy force, and if it cannot be obtained otherwise, the whole force of the city should establish a citizen's watch at once. A strong police ought to be stationed at the depot and on the thoroughfares leading from it.

Ladies Fair.

There will be a fair held by the ladies of this city, at the Supreme Court room in the Capitol, commencing on Tuesday evening at 7½ o'clock and continuing Wednesday and Thursday from 10 to 3 o'clock, and during the evening from 7½ to 11 o'clock.

The purpose is of a charitable and benevolent character, and the public are respectfully invited to attend. There will be both a feast of reason and appetite.

DROWNED.—A little colored boy was drowned on Sunday afternoon last, by falling into the pump on Dawson street near Mr. Wyatt's. All attempts to resuscitate him were in vain.

HOUSE BREAKING.—We learn that the store of Mr. Creech and one or two dwellings were entered on Saturday and Sunday nights by robbers, and goods stolen. Our police must be on the look out.

Letter from Ike Simpson.

ROLLY, Dec. 7, 1865.

Mister Neuse—By spresshall dispensashun, today is observed as a Nashional thanksgiving in Rolly. The Legislator is not in session, and the moast of the stoars are goin through the sham of shutten up thare dores—that is, they shet 1 dore, and leave the other 1 on a jar, so as traid can proceed as usual undisturbed and unobserved, and the niggers are promingadin up and down the street with thare Sunday cloathes on, and I of them, a feller about 40 yers old, I sea, has got a taim squirl runnin all over his sholders—and I reckon he would be thankful to git away from that nigger, if he, the squirl xercises the sense of smell as other white folks do. I sea another nigger with a gun, but I observe that the lock is broak, and thare aint much danger in him.—I sea anuthor nigger drunk, and he is bairfoot, and when he puts his foot to the ground, the mud squirts threw his teas, and he don't seem to care. Oh, Mister Neuse, in the language of Arp, I xclaim. "Sweat land of liberty! "Hard tack and sowbelly."

The Methodists are holdin a konference in this place, and they two, are keepin holiday, and pertend to be very thankfull. If folks can be thankful under the circumstances, I don't think I have any right to objeck. For my oan part, I've spent too hoal nights konsiderin this grave kuestion, & with awl the prayerfull konsiderashun I can bring to bare, I'll be dinged ef I feel thankfull only for 1 thing, and that is that I'm alive and aint got no kin North of Mr. Masuns and Dickersons line. That's my stattuet, and I aint ashamed to so proclaim. Understand me, tho', I am for harmonizin and a speedy reconstrukshun—as Arp ses.

I don't attend much on the delibberashuns of the Gineral Assimbly. Sometimes I do. In the Sinate, a few days ago, they tried to elect a Unighted States Sinatur, and failed, and bekause they could'nt, every man got mad right strate, and Mr. Ferebee, said he, for his part, didn't sea no use to be in a hurry, as the neuse papers informed him that Mr. Clingman was deturmed to have his old seat, as the folks at the North, and as our Konvenshun, two, have declared that this Stait aint never been out. And from his resunin, it did look like konsistancy for him to take his seat under the cirkumstances. And then Mr. Leech he pitched into Mr. Ferebee, and Mr. Warren he pitched into Mr. Ferebee, and Mr. Morehead (unkle Jeemes) he riz up in his seat, holdin a big book in his hand, and he looked over his spectacles right at the Speaker and asked him a kuestion, and then turned right round and smiled at them other members, and asked them a dozen kuestions, and klenched his teeth and struck the big book which he held in his other hand, and he trimbled awl over, as if he had hurt his hand. Bein a pursunal friend of Mr. Morehead, and thinkin he had been imposed on, I jerked off my koat and started to go and stand by him, and sea that he had fare play, but a little feller they call Page, tuck hold of me and told me they wan't goin to fight, and nobody would git hurt. That I told him, was awl right—but he needn't talk to me about parlimentary, and sich like, ef anybody war'nt any thing, Ike Simpson was thare man. I soon found out that awl this speokin was for Bunkum, for the next day, they all harmonized and elected Mr. Pool, a short man, for the short turm.

Yisterday, somebody introduced resolushuns in the Kommons thankin Dr Powell for what he has done in Washington and for what he is goin to do. I asked some of the Kommoners what Dr. Powell had done. I asked him ef he had got Jo Turner's and Gov. Graham's pardun—ef he hadn't, then I couldn't see no rume for thanks because, ef Gov. Graham and Jo Turner warn't entitled to thare purduns, who was!

Yore old friend, Syun Rogers is elected Attorney Gineral, and K. P. Battle, Stait Treasurer, and Mr. Best, Secreterry of Stait, and I xpect Gin'l Brogdun will be elected to his old place as Kontroller.

Sence the ratifikashun of the konstitushunal amendment, which you noe makes niggers citizens, the galleries of the 2 houses are graced with the presunce ockashunally, of kullured pursons. I believe there is a gineral disposishun to have the setes in the gallery painted black—I ken of the change. The idee is a good one, for the nashun is a moanin, and waring the weeds which indekate the stait of mind. Nevertheless, I'm hoapful, and keep lookin forward to the early dorn of a stait of better things.

In justis to Mr. Wiggins, hoe who not a kanderdate for the U. S. Sinate, I must say he was the choice of a good many Sinaturs, and I would rekkommend hereafter, that pursons who aspire to distinguished pursitions, should not be over modest—they should let their friends no the state of their minds.

The Legislatur will adjurn next Wednesday, and I shall go to Washington to sea that Governor Graham gets a fare shoin and takes his sete, and I'm going to hail on Aady Johnson and pay my respects, and asshore him of my distinguished konsideration in representin the good old North Stait as recktis in curers.

IKE SIMPSON.

The Mississippi Legislature has passed the exemption bill over the Governor's veto. It exempts from execution of judgment $3000 worth of property belonging to the head of a family, children, &c. The Legislature did not pass the sixty law over the veto.

IMPORTANT COMMUNICATION,

For the Times, and all Times, to be Considered.

The first stone in the structure of life insurance was laid by the hand of the Almighty when he planted in the human heart the generous impulses of love and affection, which prompt us to provide for our own; but the keystone is this law of average to secure which we bind ourselves together, to bear each other's burdens, the stronger and richer, as the longer lives must be, helping the weaker and poorer brother that is cut down in early life, and by the universal law of compensation it gives us either the blessings of a long life, or the pleasing assurance of leaving a competency to our loved ones, as the films of death are curtaining them from our sight forever.

Times like the present make most manifest the peculiar benefit of life insurance. Business is interrupted. Men are anxious for the future. Thousands have families growing up around them whose property depends upon the continuance of the father's life. Should he die, the income would cease; the children must be withdrawn from school; the mother and elder children must resort to every expedient to sustain the family; and, in many cases, with the utmost exertion, this can not be done; the wife will return to her father for support, and the children, separated, must go, the older to seek work, and the younger be distributed among friends. Such reverses befall men the least expecting them. While business is active, and prosperity gives exhiliration and hope, men can hardly be made to feel that they are within a hand's breadth of utter reverse, and that their families may be scattered in a month, by the death of the father. But hard times lead men to think of these things.

Now if a man has insured a sum of one, five or ten thousand dollars upon his life, this anxiety is removed. While he lives, he can support his family. If he dies, ample provision is made for them.

It is every man's duty to provide for his family. That provision must include its future contingent condition. That provision, so far as it is material, men ordinarily seek to secure by their own accumulations and investments. But all these are uncertain. The man rich to-day, is, from causes beyond his reach, poor to-morrow. A war in China, a revolution in Europe, a rebellion in America, overrule ten thousand fortunes in every commercial community. But, in life insurance there are no risks or contingencies. Other investments may fail. A house may burn down. Banks may break. Bonds and mortgages may be seized for debt, and all property may fall into the bottomless gulf of bankruptcy. But money secured to your family by life insurance, will go to them without fail or interruption, provided you have selected a sound and honorable insurance company. Of two courses, one of which may leave your family destitute, and the other of which assures them a comfortable support at your decease, can there be a doubt which is to be chosen?"

The benefits of life insurance are not confined to a provision for families, but are as numerous as the various circumstances of individuals. It enables a person to make a provision for a wife, a parent, a child, a friend or domestic, depending on him, and he lives secure, that while his industry is providing for their support, his savings are effectually guarding them against want in the event of his death, thus doing his whole duty toward them instead of only one half of it.

It enables a person to raise money on loans where real security can not be offered, to provide for the prompt payment of his debts in the case of his death, and to secure the eventual payment of doubtful debts.

By it a charitable individual may donate a legacy to some beneficent institution; or a congregation a support to their minister's family in case of his death.

It provides means to reimburse the sum expended in the purchase of any life estate, on the death of the person during whose life it is held; to remove incumbrances, payable on events connected with the termination of life; and secures the return of money paid for education, for capital embarked in business, or other advances made for children or others, in the event of their premature death; and, generally, it affords a certain indemnity against any pecuniary loss whatsoever, to which one individual may become subject, by reason of the death of another.

It is a subject, then, which concerns the poor as well as the rich, the man living on his income, the mechanic the farmer, the professional man, the merchant—in short all classes of the community.

Surely, such an institution deserves the countenance, the consideration and support of all reflecting men, and is doubly recommended, when it is considered how very small a sacrifice of some personal gratification, will secure, by its means, the independence and happiness of a family.

B. G. WILDER & CO., PATENTEES AND MANUFACTURERS OF THE BEST FIRE PROOF SAFE IN THE WORLD!!
JEWELERS' and BANKERS' SAFES made to Order, Lined with Hardened Steel.
HOUSE AND PLATE SAFES.

TO THIS CELEBRATED SAFE was awarded the GOLD MEDAL, at the World's Fair in London, in 1851.

NOTICE.—This celebrated Fire Proof safe is no longer made and sold by SILAS C. HERRING, his license to make and sell them having expired.

The thousands of Certificates from Merchants, Bankers and Mechanics of all trades, that have been given in favor of this the only true "SALAMANDER," renders it useless for the subscribers to multiply words in its favor, as full thirty thousand of "WILDER'S PATENT SALAMANDER SAFES," have been manufactured and sold in the United States; and, in almost every large fire that has taken place during the last seventeen years, these Safes have been subjected to the severest tests, and not one of the "Genuine Salamanders" has ever been destroyed.

Safes sold at New York price, with the freight to Wilmington added. No commission charged in Wilmington. We are prepared to take orders for these celebrated Safes. Samples can be seen at our office in a few days.

Every Merchant should have one of these cheap and secure Safes.

NEW GOODS.

New Line Opened! Makes Two Trips to the Line's Once!

A. CREECH HAS JUST RETURNED FROM the North, where he has bought his entire supply of

STAPLE AND FANCY DRY GOODS,

Embracing the various New Styles of the Season, together with Ladies' Cloaks, Long Shawls, Square Shawls, Ladies and Misses' Goods, Ladies and Misses' Hoop Skirts, Ladies and Misses' Balmoral Skirts, Gent's Boots and Shoes, Boys, Youths and Children's Boots and Shoes. Felt Hats, the Dunlap the Beaver, the Planter's wide brim, and other styles for Fall wear. Boys, Youths and Children's Hats. Woodware, Willow Ware, Crockery and Glass Ware, and a superior lot of Family Groceries.

Take my stock altogether, I have one among the largest and most desirable and complete stocks of Staple and Fancy Dry Goods in the City.

Now, allow me to say that I bought my Goods to sell, and they must and shall be sold; but I don't expect to take a piece of poetry in one hand and a full grown humbug in the other and climb up to the clouds and fish out the birds of Paradise and gently bring them down with a placard stuck on their backs "Selling out at Cost! selling out at cost!" No, I deal in no such humbug. I keep no such a class of Goods. I keep no time worn, shelf-rubbed, defaced or dusty Goods—dust so thick you can rub it off with a knife. My Goods are all new, and of good styles, and I intend to sell them as low as anybody that bought goods with the expectation of paying for them, and the man that sold the goods to the man that don't intend to pay for them, is a fool—and the man that sells them is a rascal. Now this is plain talk, but 'tis no slip of the tongue. I mean what I say, and say what I mean. I have lived here and sold goods here for twenty years. I expect to remain here. I pay my taxes to support Institutions of the City, County and the State. I expect to continue to do so. I respectfully ask my old customers, my old friends and new ones to call and examine my stock. I will deal with you honest and treat you right. If I don't sell you goods as cheap as you can buy the same class of goods elsewhere I don't expect you to buy. Call at the B. Smith building, house formerly occupied by Creech & Litchford, Merchants and Auctioneers.

A. CREECH.

at his old stand, where he will be happy to see them and sell them great bargains in his line. He would also call the attention of those of the Military Department wishing to purchase clothing, uniforms or citizens' dress, to the fact that they will find great bargains. In style and taste they cannot be surpassed by any in this city or any other. He deems it unnecessary to say any thing of his own skill in the Tailoring business, but it will suffice to say, that his experience has not been for a few years only, but for the last 5 years. He therefore solicits a liberal patronage. Prompt attention will be given to persons wishing to have cutting done. Orders from a distance will be thankfully received and promptly attended to. Call at store No. 15 Fayetteville Street, Raleigh, N. C.
